

Eradication 99.98 per cent of the citrus white fly infestations in California has been accomplished in campaigns recently undertaken, state agricultural authorities announced a few days ago. The white fly elimination work was carried on in Sacramento, Marysville, Yuba City, Gridley and in isolated spots throughout Southern California.

The recent survey of grain hay and bean crops of the Santa Ynez Valley showed practically no change in acreages from 1927, according to John MacGillivray, chairman of the farm bureau committee in charge of the survey. Estimates of the crop for this year are, for hay, 298,8 tons, and for grain, 64,844 sacks. The actual bean acreage is 511, mostly in the pink variety.

With adverse weather damaging European fruit crops, principally prunes, H. C. Hecke, director of agriculture, predicts an improvement in the California marketing situation, believing the short crop abroad will permit of larger export of the golden state produce at good prices. Advice received by Hecke told of a short prune crop in France. The advice also reported a short crop in Yugoslavia, Siberia and Bosnia, due to weather conditions, and insect damage as well. Prune stocks in European markets were reported practically exhausted. Oregon and Washington both are reported to have short prune crops.

A bumper crop of almonds is predicted for the Paso Robles district, reports from many sources indicating that the production, barring unforeseen trouble, will be the heaviest in years. George Laing, field manager for the Associated Almond Growers, a group which operates 18,000 acres of trees, of which 10,000 acres are in bearing, says: "From all indications, the association will harvest the largest and best quality crop it has yet handled. There is an abundance of moisture to bring the crop to maturity, where the ground has been cultivated properly." The association had twenty tractors and 200 men at work during the period of cultivation, it is stated.

The California black grape crop is normal and the California Grape Growers' Exchange will this year handle in the neighborhood of 70,000 tons of grapes, its directors and advisory chairman were told at a meeting last week in San Francisco. Marketing prospects in the East are good despite unemployment in some regions there, the directors and chairman were told by President E. M. Sheehan and Secretary H. F. Stoll, who have just returned from the Atlantic Seaboard.

Co-operation between bankers and growers of deciduous tree fruits and grapes is one of the vital factors in the year by year success of this important agricultural industry, members of the California Bankers' Association meeting in Pasadena were told a few days ago. They were addressed by Donald D. Conn, managing director of the California Vineyardists' Association. "The responsibility for the present depressed conditions in the deciduous tree fruit and grape industries in California rests on bankers and financial interests in large cities as well as upon the producers of these commodities," Conn declared.

Farm relief through "the mingling of agriculture and industry" was advocated at the session of the California Bankers' Association held at Pasadena last week. Thomas R. Preston of Chattanooga, Tenn., president of the American Bankers' Association, advocated this means of improving agricultural conditions. He said industrial plants should be located in rural centers, giving communities a better balance between rural and urban population and supplying farmers with easily accessible markets and the possibility of employment in slow seasons.

Valencia shipments are nearing a close in the Lindsay district. The demand is reported strong and offerings light. A total of 1541 carloads had gone from the district by May 18 and shipments then to go were estimated at over 400 cars. High prices at that time were due to the fact that Florida oranges were out of the way. Best brands had sold from $8 to $9 per box delivered, while orchard run had brought from $6 to $7. About $2.50 per box was deducted in estimating the net amount to the grower.

MASS MEETING WATER MEN TUES.

Everybody says "We must do something to add more water to our underground supply." If there is general agreement of the need for saving our flood waters it ought not to be very difficult to find a method upon which all would unite. Many laws have been passed by the State Legislature providing for the formation of irrigation or water storage districts and the last session passed one in which the method of conserving water is by spreading and sinking in gravelly lands. This is the method used by the Valley Water Conservation Association and their experience during the past two winters has proven the method to be efficient and economical.

In fact, the demonstration has been so successful that a committee of 15 prominent growers is now at work to see if a water conservation district cannot be organized to continue on a larger scale the work already begun. If organized under the act of 1927 all landowners within the district would pay a small sum each year to establish the water conservation works and keep them working. When the flood waters are forced into the underground gravel strata our wells will stop drying up.

Under this new law the district would be governed by a board of directors elected by landowners within the district. Voting is done only by landowners, one vote for each acre. The maximum tax the directors can levy in any one year is 15 cents on each $100 of assessed value, land and improvements. There is no bond issue.

The most difficult job the committee has right now is to fix the boundaries of the district. It would seem just and fair to include all the area which is using deep well pumps and such area might be roughly outlined by a contour running around the valley 250 or 300 feet above sea level. Are all the landowners within that area willing to be in the district and pay their portion of the small tax? The larger the district the less the tax levy for there is only a certain amount of work that can be done on each creek.

Before proceeding further with district plans the committee wishes to know how the landowners within such contour line feel about it. As a starter, the committee has arranged for a meeting in the Campbell Grammar School on Tuesday at 8 o'clock, June 19, to which all landowners in this vicinity are invited. The committee has nothing to "put over." They just want to have the landowners, men and wives, women and husbands, come and talk it over.

Senator Herbert C. Jones will be present to explain the law known as the "Water Conservation act of 1927." Harry C. Smith, president of the Campbell Chamber of Commerce will preside.

Baccalaureate

The High School baccalaureate exercises were held at the Congregational Church Sunday evening when the Rev. J. H. Bennett gave the graduating class a most inspiring talk on the text, "No Man Liveth Unto Himself." Mr. Bennett talking on the incarnation of influence stressed the life of service in whatever walk of life. One's influence is always felt and the influence for good thru kindly acts and cheerful service far out weights other influences in making the world better and happier. He gave them thoughts that should bear good results throughout their lives.

Mrs. Gilmore Duncan, always a delight to her hearers, gave a violin solo accompanied by Miss Louise Maham at the organ. The choir rendered two pleasing anthems.

GRANGE HEARS TALK RUSSIAN CONDITIONS

Miss Anna Porter gave a very interesting and sympathetic address on agriculture in Russia Tuesday evening before the Grange. As an introduction, she gave a short history of the conditions in Russia for some time before the World War, when the land was all held by land lords in large tracts, the common people, who did the work, had no opportunity during their whole lives to hold a square foot that they could call their own, and that is true today. But there is a difference. Then, they did the work on the farms and the owner took everything, but a small pittance that was given to the workers. Now, the government owns the land, allotting to each family all the land they will work and care for, this they can hold for life and it passes on to their children if it is properly cared for. At first there was no market for their products, at least no money to buy with and for a time their crops and stock were taken from them forceably so that the farmers stopped producing any more than enough for their own needs.

Gradually, however, things are assuming better shape and reasonable prices are paid. But the great mass of the common people of Russia, about 150,000,000 are extremely ignorant. They work the land in the most primitive way and the yield per worker is small. Labor saving machinery is being introduced and farmers are slowly learning the use of it. However, they are very superstitious about such things. When a tractor was first shown to them they at first thought that it was a devil and ran away from it. Where not one person in thousands can read or write and the masses of the people know nothing of what we call modern civilization, progress in the use of machinery and better methods of production must necessarily be slow. The speaker seemed to think they were progressing, however. Schools are being established and other countries and children especially are being taught in the better methods of production.

Crops and prices of fruits were discussed but nothing very definite was brought out.

TWO PARTIES AT CRAMER HOME

The spacious home of Mrs. D. H. Cramer the scene of two bridge parties last week, Wednesday and Thursday. In spite of the extremely warm days the rooms were cool and lovely with charming baskets of flowers and greenery.

On Wednesday, Mrs. Hattie Baugh was joint hostess with Mrs. Cramer. Four tables of bridge were played with the three highest scores won by Mrs. Kennedy of Gilroy, Miss Mary Rodeck and Mrs. H. C. Smith.

A very dainty luncheon was served and one notable feature was the dainty little woven reed baskets, the dandiwork of Mr. Cramer, which were tied with bows and sprigs of flowers and used as nut cups.

The second afternoon three tables were played and prizes were awarded Miss Joyce Robson, Mrs. Harold Morton and Miss Mary Rodeck, who played as substitute.

C. O. WATSON WEDS

Miss Elizabeth Witherwell of Tucson, Ariz., and Courtland C. Watson, formerly of Campbell, but now a resident of the Southern city were married Saturday, June 9.

The many friends of the groom and his parents unite in extending the best of good wishes for future happiness and success.

A fire alarm last Thursday afternoon brought out the fire department and many anxious citizens to what proved to be a minor fire but which threatened a block of homes. Grass in the rear of the J. S. Fay property caught fire, very possibly from glass in the sun and burned the fence and the fence and rabbit hutches. Prompt action by the fire department soon had it under control. The proximity of barns, garages and other buildings made possible a serious conflagration.

The near future, but the time and arrangements were left in the hands of a committee and will be announced later.

ROAD PAVING COM. CHAMBER TOPIC

At the regular session of Chamber of Commerce it was voted to urge Supervisors to rebuild, widen, extend and rename Santa Clara-Los Gatos road. E. R. Kennedy, J. F. Wehmeyer and W. C. Robins were appointed to handle the business.

The matter of shooting fireworks on the streets was discussed and it was voted to inform the Fire Commissioners of the facts and urge restriction.

The highway committee was asked to call upon Mr. Shoup to urge early action on the necessary plans to pave Railroad avenue. It is expected that work will be begun on this piece of road at an early date.

Special committee on membership reported a number of members reinstated.

A clean-up of the park and irrigation of the small trees was authorized. Mrs. Hedegard being chairman of the park committee, the work is about completed.

CLUB OBSERVES CONVENTION DAY

H. W. Love of the Goodrich Tire Company staff in this State gave an interesting history of the preparation and use of rubber. Rubber was first used by the Indians in Yucatan before the Spaniards came. Today through research and experimentation many compounds and thousands of articles are made.

The acreage of rubber plantations has grown from 11,000 acres in 1904 to 4,000,000 acres in 1925 with about 600,000,000 trees. One tree produces annually about enough gum for a small tire.

Mr. Love extended a cordial invitation to those present to visit the company's big plant in Los Angeles. This talk gave such a review that all will appreciate the more a visit to the plant.

Dusty Miller was chairman and dusted out many a stray bit of silver.

Monday evening is "all Kiwanis night" when clubs throughout the United States and Canada will meet at the same hour with the convention at Seattle. A picnic lunch is to be brought by members.

Members will please bring sandwiches for their party and one plate of food for the table. Coffee and cream will be furnished by the Club.

Golden State News of Interest to All

American Legion posts in California a few days ago were notified by State Adjutant James K. Fisk that an extension of time has been granted for the filing of the "bonus." Time for making applications under the adjusted compensation act has been extended to January 2, 1930.

Presentation of California tax information to the State Tax Commission, which now is studying revision of the revenue raising system, has been started by Professor Robert M. Haig, professor of economics at Columbia University, the commission's expert. Haig, however, still is gathering data, and the work of the commission will not be started for some time.

Paving the way for a legal fight, the state departments of finance and public works a few days ago announced refusal to pay the $328,000 claim of F. Rolandi, San Francisco contractor and builder of the Klamath river highway bridge in Del Norte county, which the state has never accepted. Rolandi has already been paid $317,000 for the bridge, defects in which, public works officials declared, have occasioned repair expenditures of $69,000 in state funds.

Historic Coloma, scene of gold discovery in California, witnessed its first church wedding last week since the poet, Edwin Markham, author of "The Man With the Hoe," married Annie Cox there in August, 1855. The ceremony united Miss Hilda Herzig of Lotus, Eldorado county, and Ben Ruedge of Lodi. The Rev. C. W. Null of Placerville read the marriage service in a Coloma church erected in 1854, the first Episcopal church in Northern California save one at San Francisco.

Burning of grass along the highways of California is being resorted to extensively by the state highway and forestry departments to reduce the number and destructiveness of brush and grass fires, which at this early date already number more than 140. By burning the grass forestry officials point out there will be less danger of cigarettes, cigars and matches carelessly thrown from automobiles causing fires.

Leave Worry Behind...

VACATIONS are often marred by worry over the safety of personal effects left unguarded at home. This uneasiness may be banished by placing valuable articles in an American Trust Company safe deposit vault. Bulky articles—trunks, suitcases, paintings, silverware, etc.—also may be protected in American Trust Company vaults for long or short periods at trifling expense. It is wise to take these precautions before undertaking a journey.

GIRLS ENJOY INSPECTION TRIP

The following story from the pen of one of the girls at Campbell High School is descriptive of class inspection trip.

A group of Campbell Union High School girls enjoyed a very delightful, as well as educational, excursion to Palo Alto last Saturday, June 9.

We left Campbell about 8:30 a.m. and after a ride in one of the school busses, driven by Mr. Birnbaum, arrived at the United States Veterans' Hospital at Palo Alto. Here an attendant showed us over the extensive grounds and through the department in which visitors were allowed. The dormitories and their premises were so extremely immaculate that some of the girls expressed surprise that men actually abode therein. The work of the vocational therapy department was exhibited, and every comment on the art and ability which was represented in the finished articles.

Leaving the hospital we crossed the street to the Home Dairy, where we were graciously received by the manager. We were first treated to a most refreshing drink of fruit punch, after which Mr. Piers led the way through the plant and explained to us that a certified milk dairy differed from any other dairy, in that the standards are much higher. All employees must show a clean bill of health. In addition to the tuberculin test, the cows are given a physical examination weekly by the medical milk commission of San Francisco. Milking machines are used and the milk is never touched by human hands. The bottles are doubled capped, thus making it practically impossible for the milk to become contaminated before it reaches the consumer.

When a complete inspection was made of the corral, feeding sheds, milk room, sterilizer and ice cream manufacturing department, we were delighted to find a table and chairs arranged in the cool shade of the trees on the dairy lawn where we could eat our lunches. The dairy supplied delicious certified milk, cottage cheese and ice cream to go with the sandwiches, which had been brought from home.

Immediately after lunch, with shouts of gratitude and appreciation, the bus load of girls left the Home Dairy for Drexler Hall. Everyone was charmed with the picturesque setting and buildings, as well as the personality and courtesy of the superintendent and the girls of this institution. Miss Gregory, the superintendent, told of the founding of the home and of some of the miraculous work done there for children suffering from bone diseases, after effects of infantile paralysis, etc.

One other tour of inspection was made before leaving for home this was to the Stanford Home for Convalescent Children. Here, the girls enjoyed a visit with the children and a tour of the houses and playgrounds.

The girls were chaperoned by Mrs. C. H. Barrett, school nurse at Campbell, and her sister, Miss Lennie Norman, a San Jose school nurse and Miss Clara Norman. Misses Smith and Everett, teachers in Woodrow Wilson School, San Jose, and Mrs. Fiddler, a teacher from St. Louis, joined the company at Palo Alto and remained with us throughout the forenoon.

KIWANIANS MEET AT SEATTLE

Five thousand Kiwanians from the United States and Canada are enroute today to attend the 12th annual convention of Kiwanis International which opens here tomorrow.

A local Kiwanian on his way to Seattle as convention delegate and visitor are: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Weisendanger.

Dr. Thomas Arkle Clark, dean of men University of Illinois, Dr. John MacKay, Manitoba College, Winnipeg, and United States Senator C. C. Dill, of Washington, will be the principal speakers during the week.

On next Monday evening every Kiwanis Club on the North American continent will meet at the exact hour with the opening of the convention session here. It will be a simultaneous meeting of the 100,000 members for a united expression of tribute to the unselfish service work of members and the social and civic accomplishments of Kiwanis.

"Kiwanians may well pause this week and consider the achievements of the past 13 years," Henry C. Heinz of Atlanta, president of Kiwanis International, stated today in his message to all clubs today. "We may well look back on the past with pride. Our present is commanding, but we have many responsibilities for the future years. Our organization will continue to progress and create international friendship as long as Kiwanians continue their many serviceable social and civic acts."

"All activities of Kiwanis Clubs have increased in the past year. More assistance has been given the underprivileged children, vocational guidance and placement for students has helped thousands of young people, and all other forms of social endeavors have attracted the entire membership," he said.

General business sessions for the 12th convention will start on Monday morning. Election of all officers and the selection of a 1929 convention city will come on Thursday, the final day of the convention.

CLASS NIGHT CELEBRATED TUES.

The class of "1928" of C. U. H. entertained their school mates, friends and relatives Tuesday evening with the annual class night exercises.

The program was opened and closed with numbers by a class orchestra, which were greatly enjoyed.

The showing of the "infant and senior" pictures, which has become a traditional feature of this annual event were greeted with unusual acclaim.

Ruth Townsend read the class history, which related the high lights and red letter days of the four years and mentioned, not so modestly, the various achievements of the members.

These events were illustrated by two scenes in pantomime.

Stephen Merrill, one of the shining musical lights, sang a solo and Ruth Townsend, who won this year's Shakespearean contest, gave the selection she had chosen. Another pantomime illustrated the famous senior "Sneak Day."

Miss Ethel Jenkins read the class will and a glee club of the seniors sang a group of three school songs. The class prophecy was presented by the members of the class passing in review before a seers, who pronounced their future fate.

The class extended their thanks to the advisor, Miss Marion Jenkins for her thoughtfulness and untiring efforts in their behalf.

In the gratulating class of the State Teachers' College and the Junior College of San Jose Campbell is represented in several departments. Among them are Katherine Wood, who will teach part time music in the C. U. G. S. the coming year, the Misses Alice Dahms, Catherine Pugh and Belle Joachims, Harold Cramer, Albert Turner and Wm. R. Pugh, who has been teaching manual training at C. U. G. S. this year.

SUNDAY DAD'S DAY

Sunday, June 17 is Dad's Day. We are all used to the idea of Mother's Day and it is almost universally observed throughout the country.

Dad's Day is a little newer, but not the less important and its recognition is spreading rapidly. Some may think that father does not care for sentimentality, but deep down in every one is a soft spot that is touched by an affectionate remembrance.

GIANNINI HALL SOON TO RISE

Plans for Giannini Hall, the building to be erected at the University of California to house the work of the Giannini foundation, are being prepared and work on the structure will be started within a short time, according to announcement by A. P. Giannini and the Bank of Italy for the building, and one million dollars was given at the same time as a Foundation for Research in agricultural economics.

Acting on the request of donors, W. C. Hays of San Francisco has been retained as architect for the building; and the P. J. Walker Company has been employed as contractor for its construction. Owing to the fact that Giannini Hall is to be practically a duplicate of Hilgard Hall, in the agricultural college group, the preparation of the plans will not require as much time as for a building of new design. Some differences will be necessary, due to the contour of the site.

The Giannini gift was made for the purpose of studying the problem of the California farmer, both as to production as disposal of crops. The Foundation is to establish a permanent institution, only the interest to be expended in the work of the research work to be gathered for work.

Valves seldom wear out on your car. The most frequent cause for replacement is burning or warping of valves due to improper adjustment.

Seek National Editorial Meet for California in 1932, Olympic Year

California will be host to the editors of the nation in 1932, Olympic year, if the invitation to come here is accepted by the National Editorial Association during its June convention in Memphis, Tenn. John Long (left), executive secretary of the California Newspaper Publishers' Association, is shown receiving invitation from William May Garland, president of the California Tenth Olympiad Association, to be delivered to the editors at their annual convention.

Sale at par of $4,000,000 worth of California veterans' welfare bonds to the California National Bank of Sacramento was completed at Sacramento recently by State Treasurer Charles G. Johnson. Johnson at the same time sold $250,000 worth of San Francisco harbor bonds to the Anglo and London Paris Company and the Bank of Italy, also at par.

Service men who are exempted by statute from paying licenses for peddling and hawking wares, are not thereby exempted from licenses required of merchants in fixed places of business, Attorney General U. S. Webb has decided. He says, furthermore, that in many municipalities operating under special charters, the state exemption is inoperative.

Former United States Senator for California, John D. Works, 81, died in Los Angeles, last week, at the hotel where he made his home. He was born in Ohio County, Indiana, in 1847, and came to Los Angeles in 1883. He was named a judge of the superior court for San Diego County in 1886, and two years later was appointed to the supreme court bench, remaining for three years. In 1911 he was elected as United States senator from California by the Republican Party.

California's total estimated daily average crude oil production increased 4,000 barrels during the week ended June 2, figures released by the American Petroleum Institute show. Total estimated daily average crude oil production for the entire state during the week of the report was 640,800 barrels, as compared with 636,800 barrels during the week ended May 26.

In spite of the fact that 229 prisoners left San Quentin during the month of May, the count on June 1 was eighty more than on May 1. Of the 4,363 prisoners, more than one half of them are below the age of 30 years, statistics show, and there are 105 women. White prisoners are in the majority in both male and female departments, with negroes second. There are 3,357 whites, 272 negroes, 58 Chinese, 23 Japanese, 27 Indians, 6 Hawaiians, 24 Filipinos and 12 Hindus.

Mr. Average Man's prerogative to step into the ballot box and have his say in things governmental is a costly right, according to a statement of election costs for 1927, made public last week. Although last year was an "off-season" politically, California cities and counties spent nearly $3,000,000 to maintain ballot box privileges, the report showed. Counties paid $2,065,118.32 to conduct elections during the year and cities contributed $912,291.59. The cost per voter, however, was only a little over $2 for the year.

Declared to have shattered all records in commercial aviation, one of the new tri-motored airships of the Western Air Express, carrying ten passengers and two pilots flew from San Francisco to Los Angeles one day last week in two hours and 35 minutes. The schedule calls for completion of the journey in three hours. The 360 air miles between the two cities were covered at an average speed of about 130 miles an hour, but a maximum of 170 miles was recorded on a part of the journey. The ship left Mills Field at 10:30 a. m., reaching the Los Angeles Field and discharging the passengers at 1:05 p. m.

A $10,000,000 bridge is to replace the famed Southern Pacific train-ferry between Benicia and Port Costa. Work on the bridge, which is to extend from Suisun Point on the south side of Carquinez Strait and east of Martinez to Army Point on the north shore of the strait east of Benicia, will start within a few months. The new bridge will be a double track structure more than a mile long. The main span will have a clearance of 135 feet, sufficient to allow deep sea vessels to pass under it in safety. Construction of the bridge will mean changed schedules for the San Francisco Overland Limited, Shasta Limited and other trains of the company.

Nearly $1,500,000 in state highway bids will be advertised by the division of highways this week. This was announced by Bert B. Meek, state director of public works. The largest of the projects is the grading and surfacing, with California-type pavement, of five miles of the Bay Shore Highway between San Francisco and South San Francisco. The budget allots $600,000 for this work. Bids also will be advertised for paving approximately twelve miles of the Oxnard-San Juan Capistrano Highway between Oxnard and Santa Monica. This road was one of the projects included in the $40,000,000 bond issue authorized 1919. The cost of the work is estimated at more than $500,000.

Many an angler has sought his favorite fishing pool this year and sought in vain. The reason for this is that a great number of the heavily fished streams were closed by executive order of Governor C. C. Young and Fred G. Stevenot, director of natural resources, to all angling when the trout season opened May 1. Two classes of streams and tributaries are closed under the law which was adopted at the 1927 session of the California Legislature: First, those closed arbitrarily because of the necessity of protecting the streams for egg-taking purposes by the division of fish and game, and second, streams recommended either by sportsmen's organizations or by petitions filed with the fish and game division by interested groups of citizens.

Establishment of border patrol stations on the main highways leading out of Northern California as a means of checking crime in the state is being considered by Frank G. Snook, chief of the motor vehicle department, on the showing of stations operated in the south. The southern stations are at Blythe, Daggett and Yuma. Reports received by Snook show many auto thieves are abandoning cars before they reach the stations rather than attempt to pass the police stationed there, who hold descriptions of stolen cars and hunted criminals.

The smooth top on the new Gas Range keeps cooking utensils clean

When you are in your kitchen you put on an apron, even if your kitchen is spotlessly clean.

Gas is a clean fuel. However, a smooth top is built into the new Gas Range to give you added cleanliness.

The smooth top protects the gas burners from food that would otherwise boil over onto the burners. For clean burners mean clean heat. The smooth top distributes heat evenly and one burner keeps several vessels boiling. It sends products of combustion up the flue.

See the new Gas Range with the smooth top built into the range for added cleanliness. Enjoy this range's fine cooking.
